

KEN DICKENSON

My Uncle Ken was a fine man

A gentleman, a modest man, but a very able and successful man.

A man of honesty, integrity and good standing. Ken was also a very thoughtful, kind and charitable man. He was patriotic and by any measure a model citizen.

Ken was a man of the world who travelled widely in his personal and professional life and enjoyed a wide circle of friends in this country and many others. He was also honoured by the Queen for services to banking.

Ken was very loyal to his friends and they to him.

Ken was equally loyal to his gardener and the lady who helped him clean the house and when he was still driving to the chap who cleaned his car.

Ken was a good neighbour and a good samaritan.

Above all Ken was a very caring, considerate, thoughtful and generous family man

How fortunate we are to have been part of his life

How pleased I think he would feel that we are all here today to show our love, respect and appreciation for the many ways in which he touched our lives.

I think Ken was a great example of how to live a good life.

Thank you Ken. We will miss you.
